

Mosaic Literary Conference 2010

Request For Proposals

The Mosaic Literary Conference provides a platform for literature-based creative thinking and knowledge sharing. Each year we invite educators, arts & community organizations, and parents to participate. MLC is presented by The Literary Freedom Project, a 501(c)3 tax-exempt not-for-profit arts organization that supports the literary arts through education, creative thinking, and new media.

MLC invites proposals for workshops focused on the literary arts, literacy, and reading comprehension, and how educators and parents can incorporate these subjects to increase the adoption of reading as a tool for understanding of culture, history, and social studies.

Coinciding with the 85th anniversary of his birth and 45th anniversary of the release of The Autobiography of Malcolm X, our secondary focus is on the life of Malcolm X. Submissions focused on teaching his autobiography, life, and legacy are encouraged (but will not be given preference).

Deadline is August 15, 2010

The Mosaic Literary Conference

*CALL FOR WORKSHOP PROPOSALS***

Mosaic Literary Conference calls for educators to foster the role literature plays in the lives of students and young people. The conference seeks to rebuild the audience for literature as a means for understanding culture, history, and social studies. Now in its sixth year, the Mosaic Literary Conference celebrates the diversity of thought literature fosters.

Date: Saturday, November 6, 2010

Location: Hostos Community College Bronx, NY (subject to change)

Please title your workshop and include brief biographical information for each facilitator, along with a one paragraph description of your workshop: what are the questions you wish to explore, why is this conversation timely and necessary at this time –how will this workshop further the goals of the Mosaic Literary Conference? How are you uniquely qualified to lead a workshop on your proposed topic?

We have a strong interest in literary-curriculum adoption and parental empowerment through understanding the importance of reading so please indicate how you will involve participants in the discussion.

- Each applicant is limited to three proposals.
- An honorarium of $250.00 is available for each workshop.

Email proposals in the body of an email to: ron@mosaicmagazine.org by August 15, 2010. Please include full contact information for yourself. Just copy the questions into an email and paste your answers in. Please be sure to save a copy of your proposal, as emails do sometimes go astray. We will acknowledge receipt of your proposal within 24 hours.

Questions? Email us at ron@mosaicmagazine.org. We look forward to reading your proposal.

Ron Kavanaugh
Mosaic Literary Conference
Bronx, NY 10463
ron@mosaicmagazine.org
www.mosaicmagazine.org

Mosaic Literary Conference 2010

Workshop Title:

Facilitator Name(s):

Email Address:

Phone:

1. One-paragraph bio.
2. Describe in 250 words or less the focus of your workshop.
3. Describe your method for involving festival participants in the workshop.
4. List equipment needed to present your workshop (i.e. projectors).
5. If available, include attachments or links to previous work that demonstrates knowledge of subject matter

Email: ron@mosaicmagazine.org